

What is Living Well with Hearing Loss?

Living Well with Hearing Loss is part educational program and part support group designed for those with hearing loss and their frequent communication partners. Our groups, facilitated by audiology graduate students, provide an excellent opportunity to gain information and to interact with others who are experiencing similar issues.

Topics:

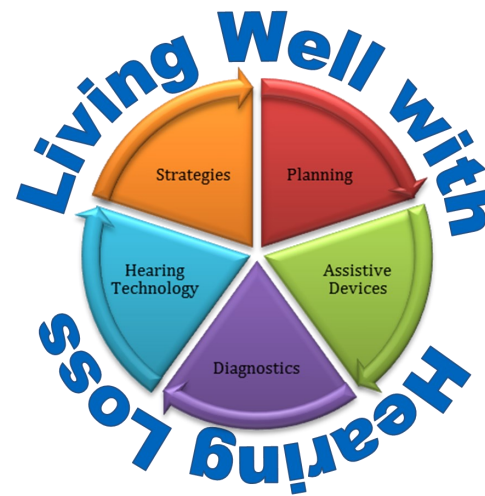

- Understanding hearing and hearing loss
- Interpreting the results of your hearing test
- Hearing aids and other devices
- Strategies for coping with difficult listening situations
- Principles of speech reading
- Special topics suggested by the group

An accompanying person (spouse, partner, family member) is encouraged to attend classes with you.

Scheduling

Our groups are offered as a 3-part series, meeting once a week for two hours.

Groups are offered throughout the calendar year

What are the program goals?

1. Facilitate communication between persons with hearing loss and their communication partners
2. Foster group discussion and share common experiences
3. Practice communication strategies
4. Discuss the role of hearing aids and other assistive devices in everyday life
5. Empower individuals with hearing loss and their communication partners to maximize communication and actively cope with difficult situations
