Class Information

Even the most advanced technologies available in today's hearing aids cannot always compensate completely for a hearing loss. These educational support groups provide an excellent opportunity to gain information and to interact with others who are experiencing similar issues. The information is shared in three 2-hour classes.

Topics

- Understanding hearing and hearing loss
- Interpreting the results of your hearing test (be sure to bring along your own audiogram)
- Strategies for coping with difficult listening situations
- Tinnitus
- Principles of speech reading
- Hearing aids and other devices
- Special topics suggested by the group

A caregiver, friend, or family member is encouraged to attend classes with you.
